time crisis 4 pc game download time crisis 4 pc game download Time Crisis: The Final Chapter is the last game in the main series. It was released on the Nintendo DS in Japan on September 30, 2010 . It also features cross-platform play with other DS Time Crisis titles In the first game of the Time Crisis series, players take on the role of a police officer infiltrating a criminal gang's headquarters. In the second game, players take the role of an assassin who is hired by a wealthy crime lord to assassinate a government minister who is planning to shut down his drug cartel. In the third game, players must infiltrate a terrorist training camp where they are meant to steal equipment in order to stop the plot. In the fourth game, players will be able to use a range of special weapons, grenades, armor and more. As the player begins the game, they are thrown into an unknown situation with no clue of what happened or how they got there. The game takes place over 7 missions (numbered 0-6) with a prologue and epilogue, and during those missions, the player has to perform various actions including shooting, jumping over obstacles and using a variety of weapons. The mission starts in one of the two cities: Mycee and Pritz, and continues in randomly generated environments. Mission's story line: 0) A successful assassination of a government minister 1) An assassination of a Japanese politician 2) An assassination of a Russian politician. 3) An assassination of a Russian drug lord 4) An assassination of a US president. 5) An assassination of a Chinese drug lord 6) An assassination of an American CIA boss The game mechanic, called 'Time Crisis' involves players using a range of special weapons and other equipment to destroy enemy objects on the screen. Each object is classified into 2 weapon categories: Ammo Weapons and Melee Weapons. Ammo Weapons are more powerful than Melee Weapons but are very slow to fire. Melee Weapons are easy to use but powerful, and they can be used at any time, unlike Ammo Weapons. Players can only hold 1 item in their hand at a time, so one object will have a red ring surrounding it when it is being held. If an object is destroyed, the ring is removed and the next object will be selected. In some missions, there are objects that cannot be accessed (shields, colored zones), and when these objects are destroyed,
